HIGHLY EXPERIENCED BANKING AND CORPORATE LAWYER JOINS LEXSTONE LAWYERS

Peter Longstaffe has joined Lexstone Lawyers as a consultant. Prior to joining Lexstone Lawyers, Peter had spent 17 years at a tier one law firm in Jersey. He has a broad range of experience in various areas of corporate, and banking and finance work including syndicated and bilateral real estate, project and leveraged facilities, debt capital markets / structured finance including corporate and specialist debt listings on The International Stock Exchange and the Cayman Stock Exchange.

Peter graduated in law from the University of Bristol in 1998 and has previously worked at Linklaters in the city of London. He is a qualified English solicitor (non-practising).

Lucy Egerton Vernon, the Managing Group Partner of Lexstone Lawyers, commented: "We are thoroughly delighted to welcome Peter to Lexstone Lawyers. Peter brings a wealth of knowledge and experience, especially in the banking and commercial spheres. We have worked with Peter in the past on the other side, especially in market leading cross-border transactions, and recognise that we are very fortunate to have such an asset and resource as Peter."

Peter is the 12th lawyer to join Lexstone Lawyers since its inception in December 2015, which now has an affiliated partnership in Poland. Lexstone Lawyers is also a member of Lawyers Associated Worldwide, a global association of 100 independent law firms in more than 50 countries.
