LEXSTONE LAWYERS MAKES ITS MARK IN THE 2018 EDITION OF THE LEGAL 500

In an unprecedented short period of operation of less than three years, Lexstone Lawyers has made its mark in the reputable Legal 500 directory. It is now listed in the top three tiers in its three core practice areas ahead of some of the more traditional law firms. It is now offering itself as a real alternative to the tier one law firms.

The firm is quoted as “excellent” with Lucy Egerton-Vernon, one of the founding partners, being described as “outstanding”. Lucy, Marcus Stone, another founding partner, Agnieszka Bielanska and Claudia Martans are all listed. Lucy is named in all three practice areas whilst Agnieszka, a dual-qualified Polish Attorney and an English solicitor, is listed in two practice areas.

With recent significant corporate and finance transactions in excess of £2 billion, the firm is punching well above its weight in this sphere. Due to its personal service, it has a high concentration of entrepreneurial individuals and private family offices amongst its client base.

Marcus puts the success down to the “tremendous support of the firm’s clients” and the “first class team that the practice had assembled”. As an example of the former, Marcus cites one local entrepreneurial client as “the best marketing team any firm could wish for”.
